"THE total of appropriations of the present esselon of Congress will exceed by a few millions the appropriations of the first session of the last Congress," is the way a Democratic contemporary puts it. Oh, well, "a few millions" one way or the other is a small matter, and Demoratic financiers never bother about little things like that—unless they are trying to construct a mountain from some Republican molehill.

A DOCUMENT signed by over fifty of the most prominent bankers in Boston has been forwarded to President CLEVE-LAND nrging upon him the necessity refusing to sign the Seignlorage Bill, and stating that it will ruln the banking business and create distrust and in a sure ruin the financial standing of the country. But the protest will have about as much effect as ponring water on a duck's back. GROVER started out to ruin the country and seems bent on completing the job.

THE appointment of Major Adams to be Pension Agent for Kentucky shows again that the President's high rain is storaged to studying and understanding the situation in any or all of the States, while the statemen of each common wealth have only one forty-fourth as much to think about.—Frankfort Cupi.

Jes' so; but his Excellency seems to have overlooked the fact that Northeast-ern Kentucky presented the name of a gentieman who, for true Democracy and all the qualifications necessary for the sition, hasn't peer in the state. Give Very General Estimation to Members of the Part of Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The members of the house appropriations committee are congratulating themselves upon the speedy manner in which under the leadership of Mr. Sayers, of Texas, the chairman of the committee, they succeeded in passing four of their appropriation bills. The second of the committee, they succeeded in passing four of their appropriation bills are the part of the second of the committee, they succeeded in passing four of their appropriation bills was the amendment appropriating $80,-900 for repairs at the New York post office. The reductions made in this bill, as compared with the bill of last assains, were $8,102,000. The reductions made in the pension bill were the second of the order of the country, but arise from the fact that the business of the country, but arise from the fact that the business of the office requires a smaller appropriation for the next year than that for the current year. On the district of Columbis bill a swing of $80,750 was made, while the appropriation about equal to that of the current year. The aggregate reduction in the four bills were something in excess of $44,000,000, and the quartet were put through the house in about half the length of time that has heretofore governed their passage. Orrawa, Ont., March 32.—Sir Richard Cartwright, in the house of commons, called the attention of in the American press to the effect that the American government has sent out a squadron to protect the seals going north to the breeding 'grounds in the Behring sea, and that it was the intention of these cruisers to deal with anyone trespassing against the regulations were now binding and in force.

Sir John Thompson, in reply, said that the Paris tribunal had no force or validity upon British subjects until i statutory enactment had been passed.

BLOODY HUNS.

A Series of Murders and Mur derous Assaults

Disgrace the County of Luzerne, Pa. Within a Week.

Wilkesbarrik, Pa., March 23.—The series of muriers and murderons assaults that have diagraced this county during the passed week reached a climax Thursday night at Midvale, a village three miles from this city. Mike Bochrock, a Hungarian, became involved in a quarrel with John Shandraw and a bloody fight ensued, during which Shandow shot Bechrock under the left nipple and fattally wounded him. After the shooting Sandow fled, firing right and laft as he ran at the crowd which had collected. One of the bullets struck the 2-year-old baby of Philip llendershot, which was in its mother's arms. The little one died instantly. The murder of the child worked the crowd into sfrenzy, called the condition of the county of the child worked the crowd into sfrenzy, and the county of the child worked the crowd into sfrenzy, and the county of the child worked the crowd into sfrenzy, and the county of the child worked the crowd into sfrenzy of the child worked the crowd into sfrenzy of the child worked the crowd into specific the county of the child worked the crowd surged up against the door. Be then put the light out, and, as the crowd surged up against the door to break it open, he leaned out of an upper window and opened fire, keeping his pursuers at bay for some time.

Finally the door was battered down.

drawn revolvers surrounded the prisoner and conducted him safely to the county prison.

During the fight Shandov's wife, who was in the house with him, was crowd received slight wounds. Bothrook was taken to the city hespital, where the physicians pronounced his case hopeless. The excitement is intense, and at this writing (midnight) the jail is closely guarded against a threatened attack. The many crimes committed by the Slavonic element in this vielnity has caused the greatest indignation, and threats are not promptly punished there will be a repetition of the Stroudsburg lynchips in this county.
